Enrollment Reaches All-Time High of 1220

Vacancies Filled; Staff Augmented By Appointments

Eighteen Additions Found Necessary

Fifteen new faculty members have been added to the staff of Middlebury College to fill vacancies and to cope with the larger enrollment.

Dr. Harry H. Hubbell, Jr., formerly a member of the Williams College faculty, has been appointed Associate Professor of Physics. He is a graduate of Williams and has degrees from Lafayette College and Princeton University.

Dr. Walter H. Clark comes to Middlebury as Associate Professor of Psychology and Education after a two-year period of teaching at Bowdoin College. He was graduated from Williams and completed his undergraduate work at Harvard University where he was awarded his Ph.D., Ed.M., and A.M.

Assistant Professor of Psychology Robert R. Wilson of Denison, Texas, is a graduate of Austin College and holds an M.A. degree from Columbia University.

Dr. Stanton S. Eddy, Sr. has accepted the newly-created position of Medical Advisor to the College. He received his A.B. degree from Middlebury College and completed his M.D. requirements at the University of Vermont Medical School. He has also studied at the Yale University Medical School and has been a member of the staffs of the Boston City Hospital and the Children's Hospital in Boston. Since 1900 he has been a prominent physician in Middlebury.

Stanley V. Wright, White Plains, N. Y., has been appointed Director of Admissions for Men, and Miss Ruth E. Cann, Albany, N. Y., has been appointed Director of Admissions for Women. Both are graduates of Middlebury College.

Miss Cann taught French, Spanish and Italian at the Schuyler High School in

Speakers Stress Midd's Traditions At Annual Smoker

Wednesday night saw the observance of another old Middlebury tradition, Midd-Nite. This annual get-together serves the purposes of introducing various members of the faculty, administration, and campus leaders to the new men and to allow them to meet each other.

The note struck by most of the speakers at the smoker stressed the importance of keeping up to the old traditions of Midd besides extending a cordial welcome to the new students.

Among those who spoke were President Samuel S. Stratton; W. Storrs Lee, Dean of Men; Stanley V. Wright, Director of

Women's Forum To Conduct Tea Sunday, Sept. 28

The Forum Tea, scheduled on freshman week programs for Saturday, Sept. 27, has been postponed until Sunday, Sept. 28, because of the football game Saturday afternoon. Freshman women whose last names begin with A-L will attend the tea from 2.30-3.15 and the remainder of the women will attend from 3.30-4.15.

Following the tea on Sunday, Forum will open a membership drive which will begin Monday, Sept. 29, and extend through Friday of the same week. Women interested in any phase of social work, or any of the numerous activities sponsored by Forum will find this a useful and satisfying organization.

Town and College Filled to Capacity For Coming Term

Tests, Receptions Given New Class

Enrollment in Middlebury College reached an all-time high of 1,220 students as throughout the week busses, trains and highways were crowded with freshmen and upperclassmen headed toward the "College on the Hill." This number exceeded that of the 1946 record figure by 56 students.

When registration was completed on Monday, 155 freshman men, 14 men transfers, 97 freshman women and 17 women transfers became Middlebury students making the 148th enrolling class 283 strong. In order to allow the entrance of such a large class, dormitory supervisors have had to double up on space already doubled last year, so the students now find themselves ensconced in crowded but livable rooms. The freshman men are now living in Starr Hall, Painter Hall and in off-campus rooms while the freshman women have set up housekeeping in Hepburn, Hillcrest, Hillside, and Le Chateau.

Study of this year's enrollment facts found new men and women coming from many of the 48 states, China, Greece, Hawaii, Iraq, Puerto Rico and Turkey with the majority claiming origin in the six New England states.

Freshman week activities opened for both men and women students on Monday, Sept. 27, with the holding of the traditional opening assembly and the showing of Middlebury movies followed by an informal reception in the library where the students were introduced to faculty members. Entering into the spirit of regular Middlebury life, the students were given an English placement test and after surviving that were led on to a library tour. More tests followed, namely, psychological and reading, then relaxation at the freshman dance.

S. U. Building To Be Opened October 4; Will House Snack Bar, Lounges, Offices

Middlebury College's new Student Union building will be finished and officially opened Saturday afternoon, Oct. 4, following the football game with Williams College at Porter Field. Open house will be observed at this time for students and alumni returning for Homecoming Weekend.

The new war surplus recreation center of 11,000 square feet was donated to Middlebury College by the U. S. Government. In the short period of four months, Ayers-Hagan, Inc., moved the building 246 miles from the Quonset Naval Air Station, Quonset Point, R. I., to Middlebury, and erected the building with many improvements that will aid in making the structure the social center of the campus.

A 20-foot Snack Bar containing a soda fountain and having a seating capacity for a hundred people, is situated in the north end of the main floor. Here students, faculty and staff members will be able to purchase hot and cold drinks, sandwiches, hamburgers, frankfurters, ice cream, sodas, sundaes, doughnuts, and light lunches. Present plans do not call for the serving of full meals, Robert A. Summers, Dining Hall Manager, announced this morning. Mr. Summers will have an office adjacent to the Snack Bar.

The tentative schedule of hours for the Lounge, Office, and Snack Bar follows:

8 a.m.-10 p.m., Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays.
8 a.m.-11 p.m., Thursdays.
8 a.m.-11.30 p.m., Saturdays.
9 a.m.-10 p.m., Sundays (closed during Chapel).

Music will not be played in the Lounges during Chapel on week days.

The main lounge in the south end of the second floor is a large, attractive, comfortably furnished recreation room with a fireplace. This room will be open at all times that the Student Union is open for general recreation purposes, and not for reserve parties. Music will be furnished by a combination phonograph and radio.

A smaller lounge is located opposite the South Lounge on the north end of the building. This room may be used by reservation for meetings of student organizations.

Combination postal lock boxes have been provided for men residing in Gifford, Painter and Starr Halls. For twenty-five cents each student residing in these dormitories will be given a combination to a box where he will be able to pick up his mail at his convenience. Each box will be used by two or three men. All students may get their insured packages at the Bookstore.

The Bookstore, which now has eight

FROSH TO ATTEND FRATERNITY NIGHT

Introduction to the fraternities will be offered the freshman men tonight as the first of two "Fraternity Nights" is presented as part of the freshman week program.

The men will be addressed in Munroe Hall, Room 303, at 8.00 p.m. by David E. Thompson '49, president of the Interfraternity Council. A detailed explanation of the rushing system will be offered and an opportunity given to ask questions.

The men will then be divided into eight groups and proceed with a fraternity representative to the various houses. Each house will handle four groups during the evening. On Friday night the procedure will be the same except that the meeting in Munroe will be very short. The groups will stay at each of the houses one-half to three-quarters of an hour.

President Urges Effective Government To Prevent Misunderstandings, Conflicts

Pres. Samuel S. Stratton called today for an effectively organized student government to help prevent misunderstanding and conflict between the administration and the student body.

Doctor Stratton spoke before the assembled student body at the first chapel services this morning, officially opening the college's 148th year.

Urging a well organized, active student government the president said: "It is of the utmost importance that the student body shall be effectively organized; not only for responsible self-government of student affairs, but for providing responsible representatives who can meet officially with administrative officers to get at the facts of any situation and to talk out in friendly fashion any differences of opinion. Such representatives . . . . should then be in a position to deny false or malicious rumors, and should be aggressive in doing so. Good morale is based on mutual understanding, friendliness, and a will to cooperate. . . . Misunderstanding usually stems from ignorance of the truth, or from accepting without challenge silly or malicious rumors, . . . unless there is a malicious intent to promote discord and poor morale."

President Stratton pointed out that a singleness of purpose unites the various college groups—that of providing the facilities and the environment for a liberal education. Therefore, it is the major task of all to "minimize the areas of disagreement and misunderstanding, and to strive for harmony and unity."

It was apparent that Doctor Stratton placed a major part of this task on the student body. With the students outnumbering the rest of the college family by about ten to one, he said that they formed the most important group of all "for the college exists only to provide the environment for a liberal well-rounded education for you students who have been chosen to spend four years on this campus."

Doctor Stratton said decisions of the Board of Trustees, composed mostly of Middlebury alumni unpaid for their efforts, are aimed at making Middlebury the finest college the resources will permit. The administration, composed of not only the President but many other individuals also works toward this goal. Its decisions are often difficult to make and cannot please all.

Doctor Stratton concluded with the wish that the college would enter into its 148th year, and apparently finish the school year, with a "spirit of mutual respect and friendliness among administration, faculty and students."

VOL. XLIV SEPTEMBER 25, 1947 NO. 1

Got Time?

We're off! Another school year is getting under way. Fraternity men are readying houses for the rushing season which is getting off to an early start. The varsity football men have been at it for three weeks. Frosh football and cross-country teams will be shaping up soon. All of the various clubs and activities on the campus will be making demands on your time. And there are new books to buy, no lines we hope, and the Student Union building to inspect and frequent in another week.

Fall is a busy time at Midd. But there is one thing coming up very soon which is worthy of your consideration. It is the elections for the men's and women's assemblies.

Last spring the assemblies, especially the men's, were criticized for having accomplished little. There was talk here and there to the effect that the whole student government needed a shake-up, a revision. Something new was needed. But was it necessarily the machinery of student government that was at fault, or was it the personnel that made up the assemblies? If it was the latter, then the blame is yours because you elected those representatives.

What good will a new type of student government do when you failed to make the most of the setup that you had? Did you show any interest in the workings of your assembly during the year? Did you ever attend a meeting? No! Why, it was no small task to get enough of the elected representatives there to have a quorum. Did you ever even show enough interest in your government to find out from your representative what was going on at assembly? Do you expect to have a student government that works by itself?

And now elections are at hand for new representatives to the assemblies. Are you interested? Have you a moment to consider the people on your corridor or floor or in your house so that you will elect a person who is capable and interested?

Student government is only what you make it, and in these forthcoming elections you can make it or break it. Got time?

Dr. Moody

The death of Dr. Paul D. Moody, 68, president of Middlebury College from 1921 to 1942, occurred on August 18. Perhaps you failed to see the article carried by most metropolitan papers in the east, or perhaps you have never heard of Dr. Moody. Most of the administration and faculty and not a few of the students will remember him.

The son of an equally prominent father, Dwight L. Moody the evangelist and founder of Northfield Seminary and Mount Hermon School, Dr. Moody made important and significant contributions in the fields of religion and education.

Dr. Moody graduated from Yale in the class of '01, and also studied in New College, Edinburgh, Scotland, and the Free Church College in Glasgow. He was graduated in 1912 from the Hartford Theological Seminary. During World War I, Dr. Moody was a chaplain with the First Vermont Infantry and served overseas with the 103rd Infantry. After a short while at a pastorate in New York City he became President of Middlebury, serving in that capacity for 21 years. His resignation was accepted with regret by the college that he served so long. Under his leadership Middlebury rose to high position among the country's institutions of higher education.

During World War II he was made Protestant Director of the General Committee on Army and Navy Chaplains, taking a leave of absence from his duties at this college. In 1942 he returned to the Ministry as associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in New York City. He retired last September to his estate near Shrewsbury, Vt., where he died.

Dr. Moody was a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor (French) and a Commander of the Order of Isabella the Catholic (Spanish). He also was a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

MEET YOUR FACULTY

For you ex-GIs with an un-used TS slip in your pocket, we have good news. The chaplain is here and is receiving visitors. You ex-officers might like to know also that he probably outranked you. He was a major. 'Ten-shun!

Seriously, Roland V. Johnson, who will probably be called merely "the new chaplain," has established himself in Middlebury and will probably be seen shortly in the chancel of the chapel or can be seen in his office in Old Chapel.

He is a "regular Joe" and should get along well with everyone. And don't think he doesn't know his way around Midd—he graduated from here way back in '38.

From Midd he went to the Bangor Theological Seminary (up thar in Maine). Following this he did parish work in Ashfield and Revere, Mass. In July of 1944 he was commissioned in the U. S. Army. He shipped over almost immediately as chaplain of the 11th Armored Division. The outfit, and Chaplain Johnson, went into combat and drove through France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Germany. After the war he saw duty in England and Czechoslovakia.

When he finally headed home, he wore battle stars for the Ardennes, Central Europe and German offensive. He also had a Bronze Star for service rendered his men while under fire and a citation from the Czechoslovakian government.

He became a "mister" on May 8, 1947 (or should it be Reverend) but he is back in his rut for, like the servicemen he served, we'll call him "chaplain."

DR. JOHN THOMAS SUFFERS INJURIES IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Dr. John M. Thomas, 76, former president of Middlebury College is in the Rutland hospital recovering from injuries received in an automobile accident September 9.

On the east slope of Mendon Mountain Road, near Sherburne, Vt. the car which Dr. Thomas was driving apparently had mechanical failure and crashed into a piece of road construction equipment being used in repairing the road. He suffered a severe shock, a broken arm, compound fracture of the jaw, a broken bone in the face and was badly cut about the face.

Dr. Thomas was president of Middlebury from 1908 to 1921. He has also been president of Norwich, Penn State, and Rutgers as well as a member of the Vermont State Legislature.

DR. LEON ADKINS '19 TO LEAD VESPERS

Rev. Leon M. Adkins, D.D. will be guest speaker for the first Sunday Vesper service of the year, September 28.

Dr. Adkins, who has been a frequent visitor to Middlebury, is the pastor of the First Methodist Church, Schenectady, N. Y. A graduate of Middlebury in 1919 Dr. Adkins received further training at Boston University. His first church was in Delmar, N. Y., where he and his family lived for ten years prior to moving to Schenectady.

Dr. Adkins' son and daughter, Leon M. Adkins, Jr. '50 and Rachel L. Adkins '49 are now students at Middlebury.

Letters to the Editor

To the Students—

Perhaps you remember reading the story in the Reader's Digest told by the flight-steward of a certain airline about an old lady on her first plane flight. "It was hardly a night for a first flight; rain mixed with sleet hammered on the ship as we taxied to the end of the runway. The old lady looked very tense. Breaking a strict rule, I unfastened my seat belt and sat on the arm of her seat, taking her cold hand in mine. She squeezed my hand tight and held on.

"After we were safely aloft, as I started back to my seat, she said: "Now, son, if you are afraid when we go to land, you come right back here and I'll hold your hand again."

Well, like the old lady, I've just taken off on my first flight, and noone held my hand either. This is the first issue of the CAMPUS for the new school year so I'm taking this opportunity to have my say—in the column usually reserved for you. I've also waived the 250-word limit for myself.

During the summer months I worked occasionally on the CAMPUS trying to get some new ideas. Voluminous correspondence passed between myself and my managing editor, the Burlington Free Press (where the paper is printed), and various members of the administration. A few of the staff came back to Midd early and together we got out this issue. A few changes have been made and a few new ideas introduced. Probably other changes will be effected during the coming weeks and other new columns and features initiated as the staff gets together and talks things over.

We have two major handicaps—a shortage of personnel and a shortage of money. The former I hope will be overcome at the completion of the tryout period for new staff members. Tryouts begin October 3.

Financially this paper is expensive to put out and we can not afford to give you as many pictures in each issue as we would like to. I haven't found the answer to that one yet.

If you, the students, have any ideas or criticisms, constructive or otherwise, please let me hear them because we are putting out this paper for you. If, in the long run, things are not going to your satisfaction the power of recall of the editor is yours through your assemblies, from whom the paper derives its power to operate.

I hope that this year is a successful one for all—for Midd, for you and for me. I hope that when we land next June with another year behind us that you are all still here. Me too!

ROBERT J. SIMPSON, JR. '49
Editor-in-Chief.

News In Paragraphs

Since registration last June there have been a few changes in the courses being offered this fall. In the Political Science department 38.1 and 38.2 (Political Theory) is being offered, and 21.1 (Local Government) is changed from 8.00 a.m. to 9.00 a.m., TTS. Economics 37.2 (Principles of Accounting) and Psychology 46.1 (Advanced Studies in Psychology) have both been dropped from the schedule. Section C of Home Economics 11.1 (Foods) is added with hours 10.30 a.m. and 11.30 a.m. on TTS. Biology 11.1, Section Y, (Introduction to Botany) is being given at 9 a.m. MWF. Sections C and G of Economics 21.1 (Elementary Economics) have also been dropped.

Announcements by the Veterans Administration indicate that subsistence allowance checks will probably arrive in Middlebury at the same time that they did last year. The first checks arrived last year about the fifteenth of November.

According to the VA, payment of subsistence allowances accruing during the last ten days of September will be included with allowances for October subsistence in checks to be mailed to veteran students on November 1 or as soon thereafter as possible.

Whether a veteran entering or re-entering training under the GI Bill should exercise his option of having the VA pay authorized study costs in excess of rate of $500 per school year is not a decision to be made lightly, the VA warns prospective trainees.

Ordinarily the VA does not authorize payment of more than $500. However, if the customary charge is over $500, the VA is authorized to exceed the maximum.

The veteran may pay additional costs himself or he may file for the costs exceeding $500. In making his decision the veteran should remember that for every $2.10 paid over the $500 rate he is charged with one day's entitlement. Furthermore, such discharge of each day's entitlement allows no accompanying subsistence allowance, which varies from $2.17 to $3 extra for each day of study.

Miss Alice E. Cooke, Director of Admissions of the Women's College of Middlebury, became the wife of John Hull Brown on June 30 in a marriage ceremony performed in the Homestead. Mr. Brown is the son of Prof. Arthur M. Brown, director of Middlebury College athletics. Prof. Frank M. Cady, professor of English, officiated.

During the summer months John R. Illick, instructor in geography, and William T. Jerome, III, assistant to President Stratton and instructor of economics, became proud fathers. Mr. Illick's daughter, Virginia Ann, was born August 4; Mr. Jerome's son, William Travers IV, was born September 7.

Veterans studying under the GI Bill will no longer have to make periodic reports of earnings, the Veterans Administration announced recently.

Veteran students will estimate their "earnings from productive labor" for the full period of their enrollment when they reopen their claims this week. The amount of their subsistence allowances will be based on these estimates. The rate of payment will be authorized for the full enrollment period certified to VA by the college and will remain unchanged unless subsequent evidence justifies an adjustment.

The VA adopted the new policy after a survey showed that not more than one per cent of the veterans in full time college training reported any difference between their estimated earnings and actual income during a school year.

Veterans whose permanent residences are outside of New England but who are attending school here are urged by the VA to send their National Service Life Insurance premium payments to the VA Branch Office having jurisdiction over the areas in which their homes are located.

The veteran is given the alternative choice of having the VA bill him at his school address. Should the veteran prefer this arrangement he should write his temporary address on the flap of the premium notice envelope marking it "Temporary Address Only." This will insure his records remaining at the VA Branch Office in his home area.

Fred Priestley, instructor in the English Department, will not resume his teaching duties this fall as he is ill in a rest home in Pittsford, Vt.

Veterans who are running short on GI Bill eligibility will be interested in this announcement made recently by the Veterans' Administration. The VA says if the period of the veteran's eligibility expires after the middle of a semester, his eligibility for study will be continued until the end of that semester and authorization for subsistence allowances extended accordingly.

OVER THE WALL

Art Buettner

We have just returned from Lake George in the Adirondacks where everything was a bit different this year. Notably, prices were up; and while the local hustlers explained apologetically that it was conditions, etc., the smashing impact of a higher ante for the pleasures of life, a canoe or two, a few pounds of hamburger, and a dozen cans of lager, only added impetus to the hedonistic drives which man normally relegates to the subconscious.

We note that things may be a bit different this year at Middlebury. The football team dwarfs Porter Field when the grunt-and-groaners hike out beyond South Main St., to snag passes and run through calisthenics. Our advance scouts predict many a gloomy Saturday afternoon for the opposition. Should the team earn a respected name for itself this year, it may be the beginning of a long era of successful Panther squads comparable to those of the thirties. Successful varsity teams can mean a new field house sooner and ultimately more and better facilities for both varsity and intramural sports.

According to Coach Brown, the Vermont papers have been building up the football squad as something rivaling the stupendous. Predictions have been all on the bright side. However, the coach feels that a team should exhibit its prowess on the field and not in the locker room. While no one wishes to belittle the forty-eight man Panther string, the Nelsonmen have eight games on the season's schedule, and it may be wise to give the team the college's support, but it would not be wise to undermine the spirit of the team with hasty predictions.

For the past five days we have been trying to remember new faces, recognize old ones and pick up the latest dirt around campus. Most of what was learned is, unfortunately, unprintable. We managed to corner no one in any favorite haunt; and in order to resurrect the results of last year's intramurals, we forced an entry into McCullough's dismal cellar (while the symphony was in session) where the list is posted for the eyes of all. The Sig Eps led the league in both Intramural and Trophy of Trophies aggregates, followed by the Dekes and Chi Psis in that order.

According to "Red" Kelly's booklet, "Intramural Sports Program," nothing eminently different is planned as yet for this year's intramural competition. As changes are introduced, they will be passed along via Over The Wall as they have been in the past in The Intramural Trophy. The fraternities and the neutral body will compete in a nine team circuit for the two cups which are now in the possession of the Sig Eps, the teams with the highest accrued tallies in Intramural and Intramural-plus-varsity recognition receiving the respective trophies.

Red's booklet has been circulated around the campus to the various interested organizations and is posted on the bulletin board in the gym. One important change has been included for eligibility: "Members of squad, letter men, managers, assistant managers, and scrubs of corresponding varsity sports are not eligible" to compete in intramurals. This alone is no variation from past rulings, but the ruling continues: "Members of varsity squads of any varsity sport are ineligible for intramural competition during that season."

The new Erickson-McDonald Memorial Cup, installed this year through Alpha Mu of Chi Psi by the parents of two Middlebury Gold Star veterans, will be

Sports Editor Exam.

The examination for the position of sports editor on the CAMPUS is now ready. It can be obtained from Robert Simpson, Editor-in-Chief, Room 202, Starr Hall, Friday morning. The exam must be completed and ready to hand in by 8 a.m. Monday, September 29.

The position is normally filled in June for the following school year. It was left open last June in the hopes that an open examination in the fall might attract more attention. Anyone in the upper three classes is eligible to take this test.

If the sports page and the sports writing has not been all that you thought it should be, here is your chance.

Athletic Facilities Added To Porter

A new and important addition is being made to Middlebury's athletic facilities: a group of dressing rooms, coaches' rooms, lavatories, showers, and a training room, all of which will be directly under the covered grandstand at Porter Field. Work has been going on at a feverish pace for the last three months in an attempt to have the job completed by the Hobart game.

This is a complete renovation of the equipment of last year which was a dressing room for visiting teams to use between the halves, and was at best of a temporary nature. Present plans call for the use of the facilities by the track and baseball teams as well as the football team. This will tend to alleviate, somewhat, the congestion and confusion which has been experienced in the last few years in the McCullough Gymnasium because of its limited space.

When the training room is completed it will be furnished with such modern pieces of equipment as heat lamps and a whirlpool bath. The football team will then move from the Gym where it is now and center its activities there.

Cross Country Team Faces Good Season

With three of the cross country varsity lettermen returning, Coach Brown faces a far less difficult task this year than last. Led by Bob Mason, captain, and paced by Jim Newman, who according to the coach is the best runner Middlebury has had in many years, the Panthers have an excellent chance of bettering last year's record of four wins and one defeat. Midd opens the season on October 10 against Champlain.

In addition to Captain Mason and Jim Newman, other members of the team will be chosen from veterans Bob Gore, Rufe Cushman, Don Gustafson and Norm Bates. Jack Geiken and Dave Dale are among the newcomers who will be trying for positions.

Little is known about the Champlain team, however, their school has been in regular session this summer, and the team has been practicing. The meet itself will be unique in that it will combine the usual pre-season time trials along with the race proper. An unlimited number of runners will start, but each team will count only the first seven for team scores. Coach Brown indicated that every man trying for a place on the team will run.

Midd's lone defeat last year came at the hands of Amherst. Although the team lost the meet, Jim Newman took first and broke the college cross country record. The previous mark was held by Paul Davis who ran the 4.2 mile course in 24 minutes, 42 seconds. Jim bettered this mark by 16 seconds with a time of 24 minutes, 26 seconds.

23 Lettermen Will Spearhead Attack On New Opponent

A heavily loaded Panther grid team goes against Eddie Tryon's Orange and Purple, Saturday on Porter Field as Middlebury meets Hobart for the first time in an intercollegiate football schedule.

With twenty-three lettermen returning from last year's Vermont State Championship squad, "Duke" Nelson, if he so desires, can start a first team composed entirely of lettermen at kickoff time Saturday. It may be the task of Johnny "Win" Winsor in his first start in college ball, however, to fill in the spot left vacant by '46 captain Art Pepin at left end.

Since Middlebury and Hobart are new rivals, little is known of the potentiality of the Orangemen. Head coach Eddie Tryon played All-American ball for Colgate in the era of Red Raider tilts against such aggregations as Tulane, and his may be a fast, smashing brand of pigskin handling.

Under the tutelage of Duke Nelson Middlebury's 1946 effort resulted in two wins, a tie and four losses, two of which were by the single touchdown margin. Nelson expects to have a team as strong or a little stronger than last year's.

With a line that will average around 190 pounds and boasts of speedy ends, line coach Chick Ciccolella had plenty to work with during football training camp. Having Charlie Puksta at center in his role of captain means that the Blue and White has a ball handler with know how and courage. On the field Charlie is a potent threat to any man's ball club.

Dave Thompson and Red Hamre, two aggressive tackles whose celebrated work broke up many a play in the backfield, are back from last year and listed on the probable starting line-up. Ciccolella will also be able to count on Bard Lindeman and Tony Monaco, his veteran guards, to add fire to the offensive play and power on the defensive. Right end Irv Meeker has stamina as well as leg muscles to get him down the field under the ball on kicks and passes. His colleague, Win Winsor, at left end, is reputed to be a fast crashing lineman.

In the backfield all four of the starting probabilities have had experience with their mentor, Duke Nelson, on last fall's team. Bill McNamara is set to start at quarter. Mac, a lil' feller, tips the scales at a mere 215. Left and right half backs Che Che Barquin and Jack Mulcahy have demonstrated their speed and blocking ability as well as ball handling. At fullback, husky, silent Johnny Corbisiero is well remembered for his numerous plunges through the line carrying half a dozen or so of the opposing line with him.

Saturday's game should prove to be a good one, and Middlebury would seem to have an advantage in the number of seasoned players from previous squads. If the skies are clear and the turf hard, a strong aerial attack may mean the difference between victory or defeat which would not necessarily be the case on a field spattered with mud and laden with small ponds.

times the space it had last year, is located on the south half of the main floor. Although the building will not be completed until the weekend, the Bookstore opened its doors yesterday for the accommodation of the student body.

Mr. Hilton P. Bicknell, Manager of the Bookstore, announced this morning that the Bookstore will be open Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 8.30 a.m. to 12 o'clock and from 1.30 p.m. to 5 p.m. The store will be closed Sundays, but open until noon on Saturdays. Miss Mildred Moore, Assistant Manager, and two full time assistants will be on duty daily at the Bookstore. They will be assisted by students working on a part-time basis.

The second floor of the Student Union Building will be under the supervision of Miss Elizabeth W. Baker, the newly appointed Social Director of the Men's and Women's Colleges. Miss Baker came to Middlebury last fall after a lengthy period of front line Red Cross service with the Army in the jungles of the Pacific. During her first year here, she was Social Director of the Women's College, Counsellor of Freshman Women and Head of Forest Hall. She is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College. Through her, all reservations for the use of North Lounge and offices should be made in her second floor office.

ART EXHIBITION SHOWN IN FOREST

An exhibition of paintings selected from the Southern Vermont Artists 18th Annual Exhibition held last August in Manchester, Vt., is now being shown in Forest Hall recreation room. The paintings will be shown every day until October 7 and all visitors are welcome.

The pictures which were used as aids in art education are contributions to the organic structure of painting rather than for decorative charm or emotional appeal. Following their exhibition at Middlebury the paintings will be displayed in the Robert Hull Fleming Museum in Burlington for the month of October.

There are about 30 paintings, the work of 27 artists including Arthur K. D. Healy, Middlebury's artist-in-residence.

Albany, N. Y., for fifteen years until 1944 when she joined the staff of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Association. While in Europe she was director of a displaced persons camp in Wurzburg, Germany. Mr. Wright served in the Army Air Service in World War I, and in the Navy in World War II.

Roland V. Johnson, a graduate of Middlebury College and Bangor Theological Seminary, has been appointed college chaplain. He has been pastor of the Congregational Church, Revere, Mass., and served overseas as a Major in the U. S. Army Chaplain Corps.

Oscar de la Vega, Ph.D. and Litt.D., has received the appointment of Lecturer in Spanish Language and Literature. He is a native of Central America and is a noted educator in the secondary school system of the Republic of Cuba.

The new instructors are: History, Pardon E. Tillinghast, Harvard University; Political Science, Harris W. Thurber, University of Vermont; Music, Miss Rosa S. Drake, University of Rochester and the Eastman School of Music; English, Donald S. Putnam, Middlebury College, and Lockwood Merriman, University of Michigan; Spanish, Mrs. Lenore Jenkins Johnson, Middlebury College; and French, Fernaud Marty, a graduate of French Universities who, after being captured by the German Army in 1940, escaped and fled to North Africa where he joined the Free French Army. He holds an A.B. degree from Jacksonville College, Alabama.

Named as assistants were: Physics, Miss Valerie C. Williams, Middlebury College; Biology, Miss Shirley Blodgett, Beaver College; and Spanish, Miss Consuelo Sanz, a native of Venezuela.

Men's Assembly To Hold Elections

Elections for the Men's Student Assembly will be held on Monday, Oct. 6, Donald B. McGuire '49, president of the Men's Undergraduate Association, announced recently.

The elections for the dormitories will be held at 10.00 p.m. and the representatives from the fraternities will be elected at their regular weekly meeting.

The Men's Assembly is the legislative body for the men's college and is composed of representatives from the various dormitories, fraternity houses, and off-campus men. They are nominated and elected by the students themselves.

Student government has long been a tradition at Middlebury for it is a part of the policy of the college to give the students practical experience in government and to enable them to have a voice in their own affairs. It is through these functions that the student body as a whole maintain a close liaison with the administration so that quick action may be taken on any problems that arise and a satisfactory solution worked out.

Dean Announces House Directors

New house directors for the Women's College dormitories have been announced by Mary F. Williams, Dean of Women.

The house director of Forest East is Mrs. Selma S. Jones of Snyder, N. Y. Before acting as housemother in a sorority house at Syracuse University, she was credit manager and social worker at Crouse Irving Hospital in Syracuse. Mrs. Jones comes to Middlebury from Memorial Hospital, Niagara Falls, N. Y. where she was credit manager and supervisor of the admitting room.

Assistant house director in Forest East is Miss Helen T. Clark who expects to graduate from Middlebury in February. Miss Clark has been active in the Women's Forum, W.A.A., Culture Conference, and as house president in her sophomore year.

Miss Rosa S. Drake of Fulton, N. Y., is house director of Battell. Miss Drake, a graduate of the University of Rochester, will also be an instructor in Middlebury's Music Department.

Senorita Consuelo Sanz, new assistant in the Spanish Department, will be house director at Wright house. Senorita Sanz, who comes from Caracas, Venezuela, was on the faculty of Brown University in Providence last year. She intends to complete her Doctorate in Economics when she returns to Venezuela and then to secure a Venezuelan Government post in Economics for service in England. She continues to study in this country to further her work in English.

Hillcrest's new house director is Miss Ellen Macomber of North Troy, Vt. Miss Macomber is a graduate student in French and has had five years' experience as a school teacher.

House director at Hillside is Miss Valarie C. Williams of Sharon, Mass. Miss Williams, a graduate of Middlebury's class of '47, will be an assistant in the Physics Department.

Miss Viola L. Diebold of Tonawanda, N. Y. will serve as assistant to Mrs. Gertrude Peterson, house director in Hepburn Hall. Miss Diebold is to be an instructor in physical education.

Midd Sage Writes Words of Wisdom

Alice C. Hardie '49

A few words to the wise should be sufficient. Gather 'round the Middlebury knee, you handsome people, and bend an ear, pliz.

Freshman women should be sure and cut campus, use sophomore walk and forget their name tags. Without doubt there will be bountiful rewards of beds to make, letters to write to the home town yokel, and loafers to shine. Courtesy of the sophomore class.

Fall romances must be deftly perpetuated in the cemetery. Cold tombstones bring sparkling cases of grip and pneumonia.

Rec room records may be steadily broken in the spirit of friendly horseplay —after that the local vocalists will do their customary best at dance accompaniment.

Rec room ping-pong balls ought also to be cracked by typical demonstrations of masterly slam technique, if not masterly shoe sole pressure. The inmates of the dorm will be spared much click-clack racket in the future.

With the advent of the winter season be sure and throw skiing equipment carelessly into the store room. That will enable you to miss the truck on cold dark mornings because of futile searching for skies and poles and Buddy's gets more business from the ensuing wreckage.

Do not fail to pull the drawers out so viciously in Chem Lab that all the glassware is thoroughly broken. Less coin is then available for the almost inevitable fattening of the Middlebury physique.

Freshman men, be sure to approach house mothers with open dislike. Then you may never have to enter the house on Saturday nights when the traffic is disgustingly heavy.

Never open your mouth in any subject's discussion group. The professor will classify you as mute and raise your grade due to physical defect.

In final admonition freshmen should not forget to perpetuate the virtue of frantically reading mail and newspapers in Chapel. There is little other time to find out about the big world over the hills, and Mr. Johnson will find much more inspiration speaking to a varied array of topknots.

Heed well the words of the sage.

Chairmen Promise Bigger and Better Winter Carnival

Patricia S. Salmon '48

Frank B. Hickcox, Jr. '49

Middlebury, village and college, leads a comparatively peaceful existence three hundred and sixty-two and one-half days each year. But . . . . those other two and one-half days; Yipes!! They include one holiday which no one begins by leaping on the Rickety Rutland Rocket because everyone sticks around for Winter Carnival, the biggest and best social and sports event of the year.

This year's Carnival promises to be greater than ever for it's to be combined with the Intercollegiate Ski Union meet, a gala affair in itself. Beside the ski events there will be a dazzling ice show, a veddy, veddy fancy Ball, a straight-from-Broadway play, a hot hockey game, and a shockingly informal Klondike Rush. Yes you will have all this plus an unbeatable atmosphere provided by ingenious snow sculpture, and the coronation of Middlebury's Carnival Royalty.

For further information concerning Carnival, committees, and plans, watch THE CAMPUS.

Freshman Women To Get Works Sat.

Freshman women, beware! The juniors are planning it; the sophomores are collaborating and the seniors will be there in full force. Is it a Halloween party? No, just the traditional Midd-Nite, a freshman's indoctrination into college life.

Your big sister will arrive, smirking gleefully, to escort you, replete in a white dress (too bad to ruin your nice clothes so soon) to the high school gym. You'll notice the juniors running around in dungarees and shirt (a costume more suitable to what they'll have to do), but the Sophs will be in skirts and sweaters to prove that somebody is on your side. And the seniors, just to show their dignity and superior position, will be arrayed in their best black dresses—carrying canes for obvious reasons.

What's going to happen? What are you going to do? Is it advisable to have accident insurance? Aha, that's what you'll find out, but not before Saturday night. Just as a sneak preview though, have you ever seen the fantastic leaps and rigorous exercises dancers sometimes do? Have you ever sweated out hours waiting for a catastrophe? Puzzled, are you?

Here's a ray of hope. If you make it through the evening, there'll be something pleasant for you; and we'll be sure to have someone handy to take you home in case you're one of the less fortunate ones.

ENROLLMENT

Today college officially opened with President Samuel S. Stratton's greeting to the Middlebury students in two chapel services at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. respectively, while freshmen activities continued with President and Mrs. Stratton's reception in the late afternoon.

Over the weekend new students wind up their program of orientation with fraternity nights and "Midd-Nite" and delve into regular college activities with the beginning of classes and the playing of the first 1947 football game against Hobart College.

Prof. Claude L. Bourcier of the French department will resume his teaching position at Middlebury College in the middle of October when he returns from France. Mr. Bourcier traveled to France in August on personal business.

Another member of the faculty who has returned to his native land is Sergio Bagu, lecturer in Latin American History and Spanish, who is now at his home in Argentina. Mr. Bagu has permanently left the staff after two years in the Spanish summer school and another two years on the regular college faculty.

All veterans are required to register with the Veterans Administration Thursday afternoon, October 2, in Mead Chapel. Attendance is compulsory for all students wishing G.I. benefits. Veterans who attended Middlebury last year are scheduled for 1.30 p.m. Veterans who have not previously registered with the Veterans Administration at Middlebury are scheduled for 3.00 p.m. Classes will be excused.

The Memorial Fund drive for a new athletic field house has topped the $400,000 mark, Edgar J. Wiley, Director, announced today. The total amount raised to date is $402,156. Of this amount alumni and alumnae have contributed $268,202; undergraduates, including the class of 1947, $8,951; and friends of the college, $125,001. Over 3,000 Middlebury graduates have contributed an average of $89 each.

New Collegiate Magazine To Present October Issue

Campus Parade, the national magazine for college men and women, will publish its first issue this October. This magazine, which is the first of its kind, will contain feature articles on colleges throughout the nation, football, intercollegiate radio, the 1948 Olympics, and winter carnivals. Student conferences, modern academic trends, and collegiate news round-ups will be reported. There will be articles, short stories, and poems by college students, cartoons from college humor magazines, and unusual facts about different colleges.

Campus Parade will be published nine times a year with the first issue containing a short story and an article by two Middlebury students. Midd will also be featured in the February issue.

College Improves Buildings, Grounds

Various improvements and changes in the college plant, supervised by John H. Kreinheder, Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, have been made during the summer.

The offices of the alumni and the memorial fund are now located in the recitation building, the small brown building beside Forest Hall. The bookstore is preparing to evacuate their portion of the building for the more spacious quarters provided in the new Student Union leaving the home economics department still in command of the rest of the building.

Some work was done on the music studio, the most important change being the moving of the record library to the second floor and the making of its space on the first floor into a class room.

Also receiving attention were the Jewett-Wilcox House, owned by the College but presently the home of ATO, which has been completely renovated and the student rooms in Forest Hall which have been repapered. The public rooms in Forest will be redone this fall.

In Hillcrest much work has been done and more is being planned for the ensuing months. Ceilings will be replastered and walls will be painted one room at a time. This work could not be done during the summer as the dormitory was occupied by summer school students. One extra room will be kept vacant and as each room is being done, its occupants will have a place to live free from the plaster, paints and workmen.

Improvement in the beauty of campus was made when many of the overhead wires, telephone and light, were placed underground, the tennis court behind Forest was removed and the area seeded, and the driveway at Starr Hall was removed leaving a walk in its place. Greater capacity was given to the boiler plant by enlargement, needed because of the new Student Union building.

on the block for the second time. We will probably refer to it in the more informal title Intramural Trophy or Cup from time to time as the occasion demands. Any fraternity would be proud to exhibit this gold cup in its trophy room.

One irate citizen who would rather remain anonymous complained bitterly last week of possible corruption in high places. All this came about after the recent New York City police purge. The way our friend looks at it is this. As ex-Brooklyn policeman and present mayor of the Big City's O'Dwyer bookie roundup swung into its final stages, the Dodges had stretched their National League lead to nine and one half games over the world championship Cards. By the week's end the Dodgers were frittering away their precious margin trying to rack up an all important single win. Meanwhile there wasn't a bookie to be found in the city. Our friend claims O'Dwyer had all this dope on hand and sucked in the books before they could make their killings. An interesting side light developed as television-equipped taverns turned away patrons for the first time since Carrie Nation. Our friend is now working on an angle that will tie up baseball fraud, beer sales along Flatbush Ave., television installations and O'Dwyer. What price anonymity?

For the benefit of the frosh, who arrive while the Middlebury thermometers were playing hide and seek around the fifty degree mark, don't be disillusioned; it gets much colder around the time that intramural board track is scheduled to start.

Town Newspaper Stops Publication After Many Years

After 111 years of continuous publication the Middlebury Register, once the property of Middlebury College, has been discontinued.

The newspaper, Vermont's second largest weekly, stopped publication late in August. Publisher Ellen Stone has allowed the name of the weekly to die. The building has been sold to Alcide Quesnel, a Middlebury resident. The equipment has been sold to various agencies.

According to a news dispatch, Publisher Stone plans to buy a new plant with the funds raised and to begin publication of a musical quarterly in Boston called Musicology.

In 1915 the Middlebury Register became the property of Middlebury College in accordance with the will of Joseph Battell, but it was sold in 1917 to private owners.

"Mother, Mother, Mother" — WHAT A RECORD! ★
BERYL DAVIS'S NEW DISC FOR RCA VICTOR

★ It's a groovy group of notes—done to a turn by one of the top of the new crop of singers.

Yes, Beryl Davis knows how to pick a tune . . . knows how to pick a cigarette too. "I tried many different brands and compared," says Beryl Davis—"I found Camels suit me best."

That's how millions learned from experience that there are big differences in cigarette quality. Try Camels in your "T-Zone" (Taste and Throat). Let your own experience tell you why more people are smoking Camels than ever before!
